

a horrible refrain. The best places to get a notion of what this type of warfare was like are the Book of Joshua and the Book of Judges.

From Çatal Hüyük (c. 5800 B.C.) comes a green schist stone (Fig. 9) with the image of the Goddess in her two roles. She is presented back-to-back with herself, on the left embracing an adult male, and on the right holding a child in her arms. It's the key to the whole mythology of the Goddess-as-transformer. She is the transforming medium that transforms semen into life. She receives the seed of the past and, through the miracle of her body, transmutes it into the life of the future. She is woman as the transformer, while the male is that which is transformed; she is the intermediary between child and father.

The idea that the child is a rebirth of the Father energy brings the notion of the child having begotten himself. When you read in Dante's Divine Comedy St. Bernard's prayer to the Virgin, the same role is assigned to her, and her son is the Father, the one God in two persons. We're here at the beginning of the whole story of the Goddess.

*Virgin mother, daughter of your Son,
More humble and sublime than any creature,
Fixed goal decreed from all eternity,
You are the one who gave to human nature
So much nobility that its Creator
Did not disdain His being made its creature.
That love whose warmth allowed this flower to bloom
Within the everlasting peace was love
Rekindled in your womb; for us above,
You are the noonday torch of charity,
And there below, on earth among the mortals,
You are a living spring of hope. Lady,
You are so high, you can so intercede,
That he who would have grace but does not seek
Your aid, may long to fly but has no wings.
Your loving-kindness does not only answer
The one who asks, but it is often ready
To answer freely long before the asking.
In you compassion is, in you is pity,
In you is generosity, in you
Is every goodness found in any creature.⁶*

The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the plane was the cold. It was a sharp contrast to the warm, humid air of the tropics. I shivered slightly, pulling my jacket closer. The pilot's voice crackled over the intercom, announcing our arrival at the small, remote airstrip. I looked out the window, seeing a vast, flat landscape under a pale, overcast sky. The plane taxied to a stop, and I felt the engine's hum fade into silence. I stepped out, feeling the rough, gravelly ground beneath my shoes. A small group of people, some in military uniforms, were waiting for us. They greeted us with a mix of curiosity and caution. I was told that this was a secret location, one that even most of the government's own people knew little about. The air was thick with a sense of mystery and the weight of secrets.

As I walked away from the plane, I felt a strange sense of déjà vu. It was as if I had been here before, though I knew I hadn't. The landscape seemed familiar, like a memory I couldn't quite grasp. I looked back over my shoulder, watching the plane disappear into the distance. The silence was oppressive, broken only by the distant hum of the engine. I felt a lump in my throat, a mix of emotions I couldn't name. The air was cold, but I felt a strange warmth inside. I knew that whatever was waiting for me here, it was something I couldn't ignore.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and small dark spots, possibly due to age or handling. A faint, illegible impression of text from the reverse side is visible through the paper. The left edge of the page shows the binding of the book.

The Earth is like a leaf on a tree.
The tree is the Sun.
The Sun is the center of the universe.
The universe is everything that exists.
Everything that exists is part of the universe.
The universe is infinite.
The universe is eternal.
The universe is unchanging.

NOTE ON THE TYPE
The end of 6-20-78

The case of this book was set in Sabon and the strike set type was bought by the German-born typographer and letter printer Fiedrich 1902-1974 and released jointly by the company Aldus and Linotype Foundry in 1967. The Sabon design is closely related to the Garamond for styles of the 16th century. This book is based on a poor quality copy set by the French type designer publisher and printer Pierre Claude Garamond. The typeface is named for Jacques Sabon who brought it back of Claude Garamond's collection of type after his death.

- 100% COT CLOTH? 1 BUT 15

Thanks to everyone who helped make this book real.

To my ladies Irette and Kara, for being my strength and my sound rig board

To my husband and daughter who have weathered the good and the bad and the wet and are always, always by my side.

1. My brave friends and family, who love me and nurture me and have encouraged me to go on this adventure. Who are proud of me for being the first in the family to write a book. Who see themselves in Maggie and Kai and over the representation. Who laugh with me and encourage me to be brave and be better.

To my editor, Joe Monti, who had the wisdom to have me write book two we 'helped book one hit the shelves. Best idea ever.

To my agent, Sara Maybow, for making sure I got the chance to write two books.

To the incredible team at Saga Press, who made this happen

✂ To Johnny Arnold, for coming up with that Troll of Lightning cover and, when tasked with the Storm of Locusts cover, said, "Hold my beer

To the fans, who embraced Maggie even though she was a soul bitch and loved her anyway Thank you (Although I did and have wished it to be a fair fight to self. Hence, especially in the case of being in a Shower, naked, attacked by 4 guards for no apparent reason, with excessive & even deadly force (a boot in a deadly weapon, especially when applied to the face/head) because in my experience a civilian does not have the right to self defence yet cops get paid to assault (as seen in 'human' 3) only a deadly force with the sticks AND BATONS for the ordinary or poor citizen? I believe they purposefully used excessive force in attempt to get me to fight back, not so they could waste tax $ pretending

The first part of the paper is devoted to the study of the asymptotic behavior of the solutions of the system (1) as $\epsilon \rightarrow 0$. In the second part we consider the problem of the existence of periodic solutions of the system (1) for small values of ϵ . Finally, in the third part we discuss the question of the stability of the solutions of the system (1) with respect to the initial conditions.

Dear Sir,
I have the pleasure to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 14th inst. in relation to the above named matter. I am sorry to hear that you are not satisfied with the result of the investigation. I have, however, no objection to your making such use of the facts as you may think proper.

Very respectfully,
J. C. Foster

What Scientists Learned When the World Stood Still

When the world stood still, scientists learned a great deal about the world. They learned that the world is a very complex place, and that there are many things that we do not yet understand. They also learned that the world is a very beautiful place, and that there are many things that we can learn from it.

2. How did the world stand still?

The world stood still for a long time. It was a very quiet time, and there were no wars or conflicts. The world was a very peaceful place, and everyone was happy. The world stood still for a long time, and it was a very good thing.

Looking from outside into an open window one never sees as much as when one looks through a closed window. There is nothing more profound, more mysterious, more pregnant, more insidious, more dazzling than a window lighted by a single candle. What one can see out to the sunlight is always less interesting

The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the car was the smell of the sea.
 It was a fresh, salty breeze that seemed to wash over me. I had never before. The sun was shining brightly, and the water was a deep breath and felt a sense of peace. It was like

 I had found a new world.
 The beach was wide and sandy. There were a few people walking along the shore, but it felt like I was alone. I walked towards the water, feeling the sand between my toes.
 The waves were gentle and rhythmic. I closed my eyes and listened to the sound of the sea.
 It was a beautiful sound, one that I had never heard before. I felt a sense of calm and relaxation. The sun was low in the sky, and the colors of the sunset were breathtaking. I had found a perfect spot to watch the world go by.

So How Do You Enter a Relationship with God?

You are important to God, whether you are aware of it or not. Throughout your entire life, he has been reaching out to establish a relationship with you. He has done everything necessary to break down whatever barriers might stand in the way. But as a part of any relationship, part of the burden falls on you.

First, you need to recognize that you have been separated from God by sin. "For everyone has sinned, we all fall short of God's glorious standard" (Romans 3:23). "As the Scriptures say, 'No one is righteous—not even one'" (Romans 3:10). Since everyone has sinned, no one deserves eternal life with God. And no one can work hard enough to earn it. So God gives eternal life to everyone who believes that Jesus Christ is his Son. Before you can appreciate what Jesus has done for you, you need to recognize that you are a sinner in need of God's forgiveness. If you never acknowledge this, you will never receive God's forgiveness and the eternal life he freely offers.

Second, you need to ask God to forgive you. "Yet now he has reconciled you to himself through the death of Christ in his physical body. As a result, he has brought you into his own presence, and you are holy and blameless as you stand before him without a single fault" (Colossians 1:22). If you recognize that you are a sinner, then you must be ready to ask God to forgive you. Do you believe that Jesus is the eternal Son of God who died to pay the penalty for your sins? If you do and you have never thanked Jesus for dying for you, thank him right now in a simple prayer. "Lord, thank you for dying for the sins I have committed. I give my life to you. Teach me the right way to live. Amen."

Third, you need to turn from your sins and embrace a new calling. "Those who have been born into God's family do not make a practice of sinning, because God's life is in them. So they can't keep on sinning, because they are children of God" (1 John 3:9). As a Christian, you may sin from time to time. But you cannot continue to live a sinful lifestyle. Putting your faith in Jesus means that you are choosing to turn away from your old sinful nature. It also means that you are choosing to live to please God. You can please God by obeying the commands he has given in the Bible, which include, above all, the commands to love God and love other people. Your obedience demonstrates that you belong to Jesus, that you are alive in him and living the eternal life that he has made possible.

The page contains handwritten mathematical notes and diagrams. At the top, there are several lines of text, some of which are crossed out. The notes include various mathematical symbols and expressions, such as σ , π , and λ . There are also several horizontal lines drawn across the page, some of which are labeled with numbers or letters. The page is numbered '1' in the bottom right corner.

The first part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the general principles of the theory of the structure of the atom. It is shown that the structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the laws of quantum mechanics are in agreement with the experimental facts.

In the second part of the paper, the author discusses the problem of the structure of the nucleus. It is shown that the structure of the nucleus is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the laws of quantum mechanics are in agreement with the experimental facts.

The third part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the problem of the structure of the molecule. It is shown that the structure of the molecule is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the laws of quantum mechanics are in agreement with the experimental facts.

The fourth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the problem of the structure of the crystal. It is shown that the structure of the crystal is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the laws of quantum mechanics are in agreement with the experimental facts.

The fifth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the problem of the structure of the liquid. It is shown that the structure of the liquid is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the laws of quantum mechanics are in agreement with the experimental facts.

The sixth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the problem of the structure of the gas. It is shown that the structure of the gas is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the laws of quantum mechanics are in agreement with the experimental facts.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem. It is shown that the problem is of great importance in the theory of the differential equations of the second order. The second part of the paper is devoted to the study of the properties of the solutions of the differential equations of the second order. It is shown that the solutions of the differential equations of the second order are of great importance in the theory of the differential equations of the second order.

sharp contrast to the warm, humid air of the tropics. (I was used to the heat of the island, the humidity, the constant presence of the sun on my skin.)
The air was crisp, almost biting. I shivered. The ground beneath my feet was hard and cold. I looked up at the sky. The clouds were white and fluffy, like cotton candy. The sun was shining brightly, but it felt like a distant star.
I took a deep breath. The air tasted different. It was clean, fresh. I had never felt this way before. It was a good feeling. I smiled. I was home.

by compassion, who brought much peace and happiness to others, and who offered great service to many sentient beings. Children could learn these stories through theater performances, which could also be shown to adults. Those holy beings could become models for young people, through their becoming familiar with them in theater performances, instead of famous boxers, body-builders or Sumo wrestlers.

Then another way to help would be to have special education on how to be kind and tolerant based on His Holiness the Dalai Lama's public talks. The main things would be about His Holiness's advice on kindness and compassion, how to live daily life, how to deal with others, how to live in the world, how our happiness is dependent on others and others' happiness is dependent on us, how we are interconnected. There could also be instructions from Lama Yeshe's talks, as well as from some of mine on transforming problems.

A third way to help would be through more education in philosophical reasoning. There could be education in the deeper philosophy for practicing all these things. Ideas could be taken from the five major sutra texts, from the very beginning of logical reasoning with dura, through to the higher subjects, such as Madhyamaka. Some of the FPMT geshe could take suitable ideas from various texts and make them into a book, which a group of Western students with the right talents could then put into Western terms and make into a series of books.

Finally, a further way of helping would be through a new approach to psychology, so that it becomes a bridge to Dharma. That is the fourth point.

There are these four basic ways to help, in which you teach the essence of Buddhism, a little like teaching Buddhism in a university, but you don't actually tell people they have to devote themselves to Buddha, Dharma and Sangha. You teach the essence, but not like in a sat-nam meditation course. This is something that could really become worldwide, because there's no need to be afraid of any religious bias. People from other religions can learn about these things. That is one big thing about Universal Education. Not everybody can become Buddhist or Christian or Muslim or Hindu, but everybody can participate in Universal Education.

BENEFITS OF MEDICINE BUDDHA PRACTICE

I think that this Medicine Buddha retreat has happened at the right time. There's now a great need for it. Medicine Buddha practice is the most beneficial thing to do, and there is so much power in doing group practice. I had heard that many people praying together in a monastery has much more power than one person praying alone. I then saw in a thought transformation text by a Kadampa geshe (though I don't remember which Kadampa geshe it was) that people doing prayers together has more power to bring success than one person praying. Here in this retreat, we are being given the chance to pray together, which is very powerful for our own development, as well as for the effect on the world.

The great enlightened being Pabongka Dechen Nyingpo said that in such a degenerate time Medicine Buddha and Heruka are two very precious deities to practice. When the time is very degenerate, with an explosion of the five degenerations, (1) delusions become stronger and harder to abandon, (2) the degeneration of sentient beings means that they are more and more thick-skulled and more and more difficult to subdue, (3) the degeneration of time means that there are more wars, sicknesses, with new diseases coming, and so forth, (4) the degeneration of life means that the life span is becoming shorter and shorter, and (5) the degeneration of view means that people very easily believe wrong views and find it difficult to believe the right view. Only a small number of people believe in karma or understand emptiness.

There are four schools of Buddhist philosophy, each with a different view in regard to emptiness. The real, unmistakable view is that of the Prasangika school, but those who hold this view are very small in number. It's only by realizing the Prasangika school's view of emptiness that you can cut the root of samsara. With realization of the views of emptiness of the other schools—Vaishashika, Sautrantika, Cittamatra or even Svatantrika Madhyamaka—in reality you can't cut the root of samsara. It is only by realizing the Prasangika view that you can cut the root of samsara, because the root of samsara is of only one type: a very subtle wrong concept. There's no mention of subtle wrong concepts in the texts—I'm just expressing it this way in terms of wrong concepts, there are other grosser ones.

So, Pabongka Dechen Nyingpo explained that in such a degenerate time Medicine Buddha and Heruka are two very precious deities to practice. In other words, from sutra, there is Medicine Buddha, and from Highest Yoga Tantra, there is Heruka, with which the blessing becomes more and more powerful at this time. Therefore, we are very fortunate to be able to practice Medicine Buddha.

Also, the Medicine Buddhas made many prayers in the past. Those who have done the Medicine Buddha puja w/ I have seen in the text that each one of the Medicine Buddhas made different prayers to solve various problems of sentient beings and to bring them happiness and success, (see appendix 2) They made these prayers to be able to benefit sentient beings in the future. They all then became enlightened. A Buddha has skies of qualities, one of which is the ten powers and one of the ten powers is the power of prayer. In the past the Medicine Buddhas prayed, "When anybody recites my name and mantra, may such and such problems be solved and may they have such and such success." Because of that, when they became enlightened and achieved the power of prayer their names and mantras have all this power. When we recite the Medicine Buddhas names and mantras, we receive the results of the prayers they made in the past. And if we recite the Medicine Buddhas names and mantras, whatever prayers we do are actualized. Therefore, doing Medicine Buddha practice is very powerful for success. People think Medicine Buddha is only for healing. It's not only for healing but for everything. — Healed on 10/20/21

After explaining all the inconceivable benefits of practicing, praying to and reciting the name and mantra of Medicine Buddha, Buddha then asked Ananda, his attendant "Do you believe this?" Ananda replied, "Yes, believe it. I believe what Buddha has said about these benefits because Buddha has inconceivable qualities, including omniscient mind which can see everything."

Buddha then explained that even animals who hear Medicine Buddhas name will never get reborn in the lower realms. To save them from reincarnating in the lower realms forever is unbelievably compassionate. For each heavy negative karma you commit, you have to experience suffering in the lower realms for many cons. However, by simply hearing the name-mantra of Medicine Buddha, a being is saved forever from being reborn in the lower realms. That is unbelievable! It is simple to chant the name-mantra in the ear of an animal, but it has incredible power because of Medicine Buddhas bodhicitta. At the very beginning, when Medicine Buddha first generated compassion for sentient beings, Medicine Buddha wished to benefit all sentient beings. The root of all this power is Medicine Buddhas great

Preparation for Medicine Buddha Initiation

RINPOCHE LEADS CHANTING of the Medicine Buddha mantra.]

MEDICINE BUDDHA PREPARATION

To be qualified to do Medicine Buddha practice, including generating yourself as Medicine Buddha, you need the preliminary of having received a great initiation of Medicine Buddha. As I requested, Chöden Rinpoche gave the great Medicine Buddha initiation here.

Medicine Buddha belongs to Action Tantra, of which there are three types: lotus race, tathagata race and vajra race. Thousand Arm Chenrezig, as in the nyung-na practice, and Four Arm Chenrezig belong to the lotus race of Action Tantra. Mikragpa belongs to the vajra race. Here Medicine Buddha belongs to the tathagata race. So, Action Tantra deities belong to the lotus, vajra or tathagata race.

To do a great initiation you need the preparation. I received the great initiation of Medicine Buddha from Chöden Rinpoche last time Rinpoche was here, and I just recently finished Medicine Buddha retreat. I've been trying to spread the Medicine Buddha practice to as many people as possible. I usually carry photos of Medicine Buddha around with me and give them to many people. I've been trying to spread knowledge of the benefits of Medicine Buddha to inspire people to do the practice, which is very simple. The name-mantra is very easy to recite but even it has benefits like the sky. It has unbelievable power to purify negative karma and save beings from the lower realms. For quite a number of years I've been trying to inspire people to do this practice and giving out pictures of Medicine Buddha. I feel very

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This book has many contributors. So many people have played a part in bringing it into the world that to name them individually would take a separate volume. I have, I hope, thanked them in person along the way, but would like to acknowledge their important again. I am sure that each of you has a special moment some over a longer period, some were a lifetime.

Thank you each and every one of you for the part you all have played in the success of this book.

Sincerely,
 Mary Ann

In most cases, to be released from custody on State charges you must either pay a security amount (or bail) or be released on Recognizance (ROR). Or person making that decision is the Pre-Trial Release Officer. The Pre-Trial Release Officer will also gather information to determine your eligibility for a court-appointed attorney. Most detainees do not have access to bail information.

Money can be withdrawn and be posted in AS, L, RF, IF, ARD, IN, and many other ways. Security is based on the fact that any person may post for good in PERSON, RENT, and other security. A money can be used to "take a lot" and "take a lot". The money of the PRETRIAL BALANCE OFFICE is 1000. The money of security is but 3 posted at the PRETRIAL Release Office.

Releases Due to Ill Overcrowding. If you believe a released man defecates in the event that the jail becomes overcrowded, this process is commonly referred to as a "prison-based Release IL BR." You should not agree for this to occur. "I cannot be predicted when it will be overcrowded and, therefore, not possible to predict whether or not you may be released as a BR." You should also know that the FBI's Bureau has dedicated real space "you are charged with a responsibility offense, including the seriousness of a charges against you, your criminal history, and your demonstrated conduct also indicate that you are a danger to yourself or others and could use in your community as a BR, consideration will be made and determined if you are in any way helpful to your community." Therefore, those who are charged with criminal offenses are not released as a BR.

Custody Information You may request, in writing, the following information from your housing unit officer:

- 1 the date and time you arrived in this facility and/or 2 the specific charges, against you.

The Classification team determines every AIC's classification status. Written documentation of an AIC's behavior (both positive and negative) is reviewed by the team from faculty members. Staff also has the option to request a special review of your custody status if your behavior is not appropriate to your current classification assignment. (Staff/Student reports are available to the courts and may be used in determining an AIC's sentence.)

PROGRAM SERVICES This facility has a wide range of program services in which qualifying adults in custody may participate. These programs include:

Medical Services The Corrections Division has comprehensive medical services available, including mental health services, see Mental Health Services below. ADULTS IN CUSTODY HAVE THE PRIMARY RESPONSIBILITY FOR THEIR OWN HEALTH. However, medical care and treatment are available from the Adult Medical Services Unit. ADULTS IN CUSTODY HAVE THE RIGHT TO REQUEST MEDICAL SERVICES. Payment is not made for the Division may be used to pay the cost of emergency medical services. ONLY THE ESSENTIAL BASIC (EMERGENCY) SERVICES ARE TO BE PROVIDED AS DIRECTED BY DIVISION MEDICAL PERSONNEL. You can best obtain your personal health care by having an appointment with a health hygiene practices (staying clean and seeking assistance when you have a health problem) or advice.

REQUESTS FOR SERVICES ARE PRIORITIZED

You can contact medical personnel by telephoning a Medical Unit and explain your medical concerns or needs.

If assistance is of an urgent or emergent nature you can ask staff for assistance directly.

Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) If you have a physical or mental health condition that qualifies as a disability under the Americans with Disabilities Act, you can ask for assistance from the Medical Unit regarding your disability and request accommodations for your disability. Adult correctional staff will make reasonable accommodations as requested by law for adults with disabilities.

Mental Health Services Mental Health Specialists are on duty on a scheduled basis. REQUIREMENTS FOR SERVICES ARE PRIORITIZED. Adults with a history of mental health problems are encouraged to advise incoming unit staff of contact.

Alcohol and Drug Services A&D Includes 2-Step Program meetings for Med Unit and Min Unit, as well as adults in custody and information education and counseling related substance abuse issues.

Religious Activities Group services will be regularly scheduled on Monday and Thursday. Adults in custody Bible study or discussion groups will be available based on the availability of volunteer personnel space and staff. These services will be announced in official housing areas that are scheduled to participate in the services you will be allowed to sign up for the specific service.

individual religious services will be arranged by sending a note to the chaplain for times that are mutually convenient for you, the facility operations, and for an appropriate representative of the clergy. No disruptive talking or physical contact is allowed between adults in custody at these services. Also, NO eating or drinking will be allowed.

The Chaplain Chaplains are available for counseling, prayer and referrals for all adults in custody regardless of religious denomination. If you would like to see a chaplain, or have a chaplain on duty with a representative of your faith, sign an AIC Request Form. The Chaplain. Any member of the clergy who has a security clearance may see you on a visit during business hours.

Religious reading materials, including Bibles are available in your housing area library. A Chaplain or religious volunteer can assist you in getting loans or return to your personal religious beliefs. Bibles may be made available in the Sunday service.

Marriage Requests - Adults in custody requesting to be married while housed in the Jail MUST request a marriage request to the Special Services Deputy for consideration. Adults in custody that have a valid marriage license are not to be given several other conditions may also apply.

Library (recreational reading) - Periodicals, books and magazines are available within each housing area. Proper library books and magazines are important. Do not damage or deface books. Return books when finished. If you are in custody you may be required to read them. Access to the library is by request. Depending on housing area access and classification in Book requests are not considered unless religious in nature. Religious literature requests need to be sent to the Chaplain.

Law Library and Access to the Courts - If you are an AIC Request Form addressed to the Special Services Deputy request access to the law library. If the request is denied, you may request a review by the AIC Programs Sergeant within 10 days of the notification. The AIC Programs Sergeant also denies the request. You may ask for a review by the Support Services Lieutenant within 10 days.

Adult - Adult correctional facility is a law library for the purpose of meeting legal obligations for adults in custody to access the courts. Eligibility for Law Library will be determined according to the following criteria:

Criminal - Criminal defendants who have counsel or have been offered appropriate counsel are no criminal defendants to utilize the law library. However, criminal defendants who have been authorized by a judge to represent themselves, pro se, and have no other means of assistance may request access to the law library on a case by case basis. You will need to provide the criminal case number and authorizing judge's name so we can verify the information.

Civil - For most civil actions such as divorce issues, child custody issues, small claims etc., adults in custody are not entitled to usage of the law library. However, for adults in custody representing themselves, pro se, in the following matters, access to the Law Library and criminal package will be provided if the adult in custody is indigent and has not received funds for the last 30 days.

- 1. Welfare of Habeas Corpus
- 2. In the proceedings in civil rights actions challenging the conditions of current confinement

In these matters, $\lambda(A)$ is not required, provide legal assistance beyond access to the law. Expiry and minimal postage-paid envelopes when appropriate and design the law, a law conflict is the court.

DILE PROCESS

You have two separate administrative methodologies available to you as depicted below

Appeals - Adults in custody may internally appeal decisions or actions concerning discipline certain rule violations, classification and release date calculations. An appeal is made by submitting a written notice of appeal on an A Request Form to the applicable staff member.

1. Administrative - may be appealed. NLESS they were agreed upon and the adult in custody waived the hearing. If you waive your hearing, you also waive the right to appeal the decision and sanction. Appeals of decisions and sanctions imposed for violations will be imposed by the hearings officer for the 10 regions. On days Appeals of decisions and sanctions other appeals should be directed to the Security Section. Notwithstanding
2. Other appeals should be directed to the appropriate supervisor.
3. All appeals must follow this format:
4. If you request a hearing on the matter, you must:
5. appeal that you serve as the first official action that your first appeal must be made within seven (7) calendar days (of the decision or action that is being disputed) or the right of appeal will be lost. The appropriate supervisor will make a decision within seven (7) calendar days receiving the appeal. You will be notified in writing of the decision and the reasons for it. If you are dissatisfied, you may appeal that decision in writing to the appropriate Security Management within seven (7) calendar days. A written response regarding your second appeal will be given to you within seven (7) calendar days of receiving it.
6. If any of these appeals have been exhausted and you still feel that you have not been treated fairly, you can seek legal help to appeal the matter to a court.

IF YOU FAIL TO MAKE AN APPEAL OR FILE A GRIEVANCE WITHIN THE TIME ALLOWED, THE RIGHT TO FURTHER APPEAL OR CIVIL LITIGATION COULD BE FORFEIT.

Grievance Procedure A grievance is an administrative remedy for adults in custody to contest conditions of confinement, treatment from staff or a policy or procedure. Issues addressed under appeals (see above) are not subject to the grievance process and will be handled through a formal appeals process. Other complaints that are not subject to the grievance process include but are not limited to incidents or problems to which the adult in custody was not a party, a collection of unrelated complaints, and group grievances.

It is the policy of the Lane County Sheriff's Office to address AIC concerns in a fair and timely manner. A formal procedure has been adopted to uniformly and consistently respond to AIC grievances. The grievance procedure provides you with an opportunity to resolve a grievance with the involved employee, if dissatisfied with the initial response, you have the option to continue up the chain of command to request a final review. A jail administrator will review the grievance and, if necessary, act on the information provided. Policy requires that this review will be made without prejudice, reprisal, or retaliation to you.

A unique control number will be assigned to the AIC grievance form being issued to you and that control number will be referenced in all future correspondence regarding the grievance, so please limit your grievance requests to one complaint per grievance. As much as possible, your grievance must include details of the location, involved staff and witnesses, and approximate date and time of the event being grieved. Requests to file grievances against employee responses on previous grievances may be denied.

A grievance could be closed, and your administrative remedy would not be exhausted, if you incompletely fill out the grievance form, file a late grievance, don't provide required information, raise more than one issue, or if you don't indicate a resolution to your grievance. LCAC Administration will individually assess each grievance to determine whether or not it meets the minimum requirements.

1. To obtain a Grievance Form, send us AIC Request Form to the Grievance Supervisor that contains sufficient information to determine if a grievance is appropriate. When you receive a grievance form, you may choose to complete it. Procedures must then be followed in order to exercise your opportunity for seeking resolution of an issue. Timelines, both for Sheriff's Office staff and adults in custody, will govern the following procedures outlined below.

2. Adults in custody who want to register a grievance will be required to complete the AIC Grievance Form within 14 calendar days from when they first knew of, or reasonably should have known of, the alleged act or situation. Failure to initiate a grievance within 14 calendar days, or failure to provide reasonable justification for not initiating a grievance within 14 calendar days of the incident, may eliminate your opportunity for resolution through the grievance process. If you fail to respond to any portion of a grievance within 30 calendar days, the matter will be considered closed; your administrative remedy will not be exhausted. Any grievance registered after the 14 calendar-day timeline requires the AIC to justify why they were unable to comply with the time limitations provided above. These circumstances will then be reviewed by LCAC administration to determine whether the grievance process should proceed.

3. If you are released from custody or transferred to another facility but wish to file a grievance regarding your in-custody conditions of confinement, you must follow these same administrative remedy steps. You may contact the jail to request a grievance form. You will be provided paperwork that further explains this process at your release. This process and the timelines are the same as an in-custody grievance process, though reasonable allowances for correspondence through the U.S. Postal Service will be considered. This grievance process and policy can also be found on the Lane County Sheriff's Office website.

4. If you start a grievance while you are in custody and it's not resolved before being released or transported, you need to notify the jail in written form with your address within 30 calendar days of being released or transported if you want to continue the grievance. If you do not contact the jail within 30 calendar days, the grievance will be considered closed and resolved.
5. Step one requires the AIC to initiate the grievance process as noted above. Only one incident may be grieved on each grievance form. If you require additional grievance forms, provide a separate AIC Request Form for each grieved incident.
6. Step two requires the involved employee to respond to the grievance in writing and return the form to the aggrieved adult in custody within fourteen (14) business days from the date received by LCAC Administration.
7. If you are not satisfied with the initial response, you will have seven (7) calendar days to request a further review of the grievance.
8. Step three requires that a jail administrator respond and return the completed grievance to you within fourteen (14) business days from the date received by LCAC Administration.
9. If you are not satisfied with the response, you will have seven (7) calendar days to submit a request for final review to jail administration.
10. Step four requires a jail administrator to return the final response to you within 14 business days.

Again, you have the option of filing or continuing a grievance after you have been released from custody or if you've been transferred to another facility. Requests for a grievance form while you are out of custody can be submitted in person during regular business hours at the Lane County Jail's reception counter or online at www.lanecounty.org - simply follow the links to the Lane County Sheriff's Office web page to file a complaint. You may also send a written request for a grievance form to: Lane County Adult Corrections, 101 W. 5th Ave, Eugene OR, 97401.

ing him a skein of embroidery silk to unravel, "but quite inconceivably rash. You could well have drowned!"

"Nonsense. No one who could swim a stroke could have drowned in a sea like that, and I'm a strong swimmer. It was extremely pleasant after the heat of these decks, let me tell you."

"I see that you are determined to make light of it," said Mrs. Abuthnot approvingly. "But I shall not allow man in a shark-infested sea was a heroic deed and worthy of the highest praise."

"Mrs. Abuthnot," said Alex, handing back the skein of silk and receiving another, "I cannot masquerade as a hero to you, much as I should enjoy doing so. But as I have already been forced to point out to a good many people, I had entirely forgotten that there were such things as sharks. The possibility of meeting any had not so much as crossed my mind, and had it done so I do assure you that I should not have gone in after that man, I should have contented myself with throwing over another beach-coop, and prayer."

"I do not believe it," said Mrs. Abuthnot with energy. "Alas, it is only too true. The sight of that shark gave me the worst shock of my life and I hope I may never have another as bad."

Winter looked up from the embroidery she held in her hands and spoke for the first time:

"Perhaps you had not thought of there being sharks, but you went to the rescue of a man whom you—you had no cause to think well of. That at least was noble."

Alex regarded her with a distinctly ironical eye. "I'm afraid not. You see I did not know who it was whom I had gone after."

"You didn't know?"

"Not until I had reached him; no."

Winter stared at him wide-eyed. "But—but if you had known, you would not have left him to drown."

"Oh yes, I would," said Alex grimly. "The gesture was a lamentable mistake on my part, and one which I deeply regret." He came to his feet, and handing over the unravelled skein of silk to Mrs. Abuthnot with a bow and a smile, turned away and left them.

"He does not mean a word of it," said Mrs. Abuthnot fortably. "He is just being modest. So truly heroic!"

"Oh, no, he is not," said Winter scornfully, her eyes sparkling with anger. "He means every word of it. And he is quite right—he did nothing in the least heroic, because he knew quite well that he himself would not drown and he had not even thought of there being sharks. He did not know who had fallen overboard, and may even have thought it was you or Sophie. If he had known, he would have let that man drown!"

"How can you say such a thing, Winter?" Sophie's soft voice quivered with indignation.

"Because it's true," snapped Winter. The reflection that she herself had come close to regarding Captain Randall's exploit with as much admiration, if not more, as the hero-worshipping Sophie, filled her with fury, and the fact that she had been in a fair way to forgiving and forgetting Captain Randall's disloyalty to Conway added immeasurably to her anger.

Conway, she thought, would have sprung to the rescue of a drowning man even if he had known the risks—it would not have occurred to him to stand by and see even an enemy drown. And suddenly, with that conviction, Conway was alive and real again and no longer a thing of pasteboard and straw.

The remainder of the voyage had been uneventful. They had seen a school of whales off Colombo and passed an East Indian man under full sail by moonlight, looking like some fabulous thing made of silver. They had braved the surf in cockle-shell boats to land at Madras, and had driven through the town in curious carriages shaped like oblong boxes made from Venetian blinds. And now at last they were almost at the end of their long journey.

The tide lapped and gurgled against the sides of the stationary ship, and through the open port-hole Winter could see an enormous star, low above the sea and swinging like a diamond on an invisible chain to the slow rocking movement of the anchored ship. One of the housemaids at Ware had told her that if you wished upon a star your wish would come true, and ever since then, on every clear night, Winter had wished on a star. Always the same wish. That the years would pass quickly until the day that Conway would come for her. Now there was no need to wish that wish any longer, and the blazing brilliance of the star that she could see beyond the cabin port-hole pointed the difference between tonight and all
